

WE HAVE PLANNED,
HERE'S THE RESULT

$2.98 WAISTS AT $1.98!

MANY OF THE REPRESENTATIVE
NEW SPRING STYLES INCLUDED IN TO-DAY'S PARTICULAR SALE!

You will find the new Lingerie Waists of fine Sheer Batiste, hand-embroidered, in different designs; trimmed with Val, while others with small yokes, round and square, trimmed in Val, Swiss, Baby Irish, Cherry and Plat Val, in numerous styles; fancy trimmed sleeves; sizes for every woman.

Third Floor.

Kaufmann & Company

Social and Personal

all members of the church and friends of the pastor are invited to come.

Dr. Jordan to Speak.

On Thursday afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock, Dr. H. E. Jordan, who is associated with the medical department of the University of Virginia, will address the Equal Suffrage League of Richmond and the public, who are invited to be present at league headquarters, 506 East Broad Street. Dr. Jordan will speak on "Eugenics." He is a national expert insofar as his subject is concerned, being prominent in the National Association for Prevention of Infant Mortality. Mrs. R. K. Flannigan will be chairman of the afternoon.

Mrs. B. B. Valentine has called a board meeting for this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, and all board members are expected to come.

Johnson-Sclater.

At the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Acree, at Howard's Grove, Miss Elizabeth Patterson Sclater was married very quietly to Oscar A. Johnson, on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The bride wore a handsome going-away dress of blue, and carried a bride rose. Her matron of honor was Mrs. R. S. T. Smith, of Ginter Park, and the groom's best man was A. Hall. Little Robert Smith was ring bearer. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Francis, and immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for their home in Hanover County.

At The Retreat For The Sick.

The Retreat for the Sick will observe Thursday, February 23, as its annual observance. All old friends and many new ones are asked to help this hospital, which has during the year past assisted many needy and suffering people.

Mrs. Elsie Entertainers.

Mrs. P. H. Elsie, of Riverside Drive, New York, gave the last of a series of very pretty luncheons in her home, on Saturday, Mrs. Elsie will entertain at a few small and informal dinners with music, during Lent.

Bedell-Wilson.

Miss Bessie Wilson, niece of Mrs. Horace Brightman, of East Sixty-third Street, New York, was married to Dr. Arthur Bedell, of Albany, N. Y., on Wednesday, February 12. The Rev. Leighton Parks officiated.

The bride was given away by her cousin, Harry Brightman. She wore a gown of white satin embroidered with pearls and trimmed with point lace which had been worn by her grandmother. Her ornaments were a pin of diamonds and sapphires, the gift of the bridegroom, and a bracelet of diamonds and sapphires, the gift of her aunt. Her bouquet was of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The bridal attendants were: Miss Grace Wilson, as maid of honor, and Misses Estella Garrison, Olivelette Wilson, Dorothy Mahoney and Margaret Beem. They wore cameo pink satin frocks and had bouquets of pink roses.

Major Joseph Cox, U. S. A., was best man, and Dr. Malcolm Douglas, Dr. Joseph O'Brien and Dr. Arthur Holding were the ushers.

Dr. and Mrs. Bedell will spend their honeymoon in the South, and will make their future home in Albany. The bride is well known in Richmond, where she visited last fall as the guest of Mrs. Thomas M. Snead.

Guest of Mrs. Rutherford.

Mrs. Richmond Pearson, formerly Miss Gay Thomas, of this city, now of Asheville, N. C., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas M. Rutherford, 112 East Grace Street. Mrs. Pearson has spent much of her life abroad.

In and Out of Town.

Lewis Grant returned to Richmond on Friday, after a week's visit to friends in New York.

Miss Nannie Jones is spending some time in North Carolina.

Miss Louise Darlington is spending two weeks in Charleston and Allendale, N. C.

Mrs. B. Eugene Portaux, who has been quite ill at the Memorial Hospital, is convalescent.

Wallace Henderson spent Friday in Richmond, en route to Mathews County for a two weeks' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fairfax have left to spend some time in Florida.

Mrs. Robert E. Peyton, of The Plains, will arrive this week to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Peyton, Jr., on Park Avenue.

Misses Cunningham, of Covington, have returned to their home, after a visit to Mrs. A. Sedden Jones, in this city.

Robert Pollard spent the week-end with friends at Williams' Wharf.

Miss Nannie Davenport has returned to her home, after a visit to Savannah.

Miss Annie Laurie Haynes is visiting friends in Maryland.

John W. Arrington, of Greenville, S. C., spent Sunday in Richmond.

Miss Katharine Bloke, of this city, who has been traveling in Florida for the past month, is now at Palm Beach.

Rev. Colline Denny is spending some time at Battle Creek, Mich., for his health.

Miss Bruce Parker has returned to her home here, after a visit to friends in Suffolk.

VEHICLE STRUCK BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Young Women Thrown Out, and One Receives Injuries Which May Prove Fatal.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Rocky Mount, N. C., February 16.—While attempting to cross the Atlantic Coast Line tracks on Thomas Street, in the heart of the city, yesterday afternoon at about 1:15 o'clock, a vehicle, in which were Miss Lillie Cullifer and Miss Leslie Abrams, was struck by a freight train, and Miss Cullifer was seriously, if not fatally, injured. Her right leg was badly mangled below the knee, and the right side of her head was crushed.

Miss Abrams escaped with only minor bruises. The horse was killed outright. The wounded girl was taken on a special train to the Atlantic Coast Line relief hospital at South Rocky Mount later in the afternoon. Physicians state to-night that she has a chance to recover.

NEWS OF EASTERN SHORE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Onancock, Va., February 16.—St. James's Episcopal Church, at Accomack, was saved from destruction by fire Friday evening by the work of the citizens of the town. Lenten services were held in the church in the afternoon. The smell of smoke was strong, yet no fire could be found. Two negro men were left on guard and at 7 o'clock flames burst through the walls and the chimney. The damage will not exceed $200. The walls of the church were frescoed by an artisan from England, and could not be reproduced. A memorial service was held in this church at the time of the death of George Washington. The smell of smoke was strong, yet no fire could be found. Two negro men were left on guard and at 7 o'clock flames burst through the walls and the chimney. The damage will not exceed $200. The walls of the church were frescoed by an artisan from England, and could not be reproduced. A memorial service was held in this church at the time of the death of George Washington.

The Eastern Shore Truck Experiment Station, at Lary, is ready for work with Mr. Garrison, of the Delaware Agricultural College, in charge. The State board, at a meeting last week, appropriated $500 extra for the furtherment of the work of the station.

Quite a number of Masons from the Shore were in attendance upon the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, which was in session in Richmond last week. The lodge is composed of members from the Eastern Shore, and the meeting was a successful one.

A Law and Order League was organized at the Baptist Church in Parkersburg, Tuesday evening, with seventy-seven members. Rev. R. L. Shipley, of the Methodist Protestant Church, was chosen president. Prof. J. O. Shue, secretary, and A. W. Johnson, treasurer. The object of the league is to prevent the illegal sale of liquor and to suppress gambling in the vicinity.

Oysters sold from 25 to 30 cents higher in the basket last week than at any time during the season. The demand at this time is larger than the supply. Culls are sold at from $2.75 to $3.00, and prime from $1.50 to $2.00 per barrel. Two-thirds of the oyster supply has already been marketed.

A cherry tree which was ninety years old, was cut down on the farm of John T. Nock, delivered to the city of Annapolis last week. Several hundred bushels were sold there by the city.

A. J. Lilliston, county treasurer, was in Richmond Friday on business. The grand jury was in session for eight days. A number of indictments were made. A number of them for illegal sale of liquor. Several persons against whom true bills were brought have left the county.

By the verdict of the jury, which rendered its decision Thursday morning, the will of the late Thomas James Warner will not be broken. The case was tried in the Circuit Court for eight days, and attracted more people to the courthouse than have been seen there for years. Stewart K. Powell, Warner Ames and ex-Senator B. T. Warner were the attorneys.

The grand jury was in session for eight days. A number of indictments were made. A number of them for illegal sale of liquor. Several persons against whom true bills were brought have left the county.

By the verdict of the jury, which rendered its decision Thursday morning, the will of the late Thomas James Warner will not be broken. The case was tried in the Circuit Court for eight days, and attracted more people to the courthouse than have been seen there for years. Stewart K. Powell, Warner Ames and ex-Senator B. T. Warner were the attorneys.

The grand jury was in session for eight days. A number of indictments were made. A number of them for illegal sale of liquor. Several persons against whom true bills were brought have left the county.

By the verdict of the jury, which rendered its decision Thursday morning, the will of the late Thomas James Warner will not be broken. The case was tried in the Circuit Court for eight days, and attracted more people to the courthouse than have been seen there for years. Stewart K. Powell, Warner Ames and ex-Senator B. T. Warner were the attorneys.

The grand jury was in session for eight days. A number of indictments were made. A number of them for illegal sale of liquor. Several persons against whom true bills were brought have left the county.

By the verdict of the jury, which rendered its decision Thursday morning, the will of the late Thomas James Warner will not be broken. The case was tried in the Circuit Court for eight days, and attracted more people to the courthouse than have been seen there for years. Stewart K. Powell, Warner Ames and ex-Senator B. T. Warner were the attorneys.

The grand jury was in session for eight days. A number of indictments were made. A number of them for illegal sale of liquor. Several persons against whom true bills were brought have left the county.

By the verdict of the jury, which rendered its decision Thursday morning, the will of the late Thomas James Warner will not be broken. The case was tried in the Circuit Court for eight days, and attracted more people to the courthouse than have been seen there for years. Stewart K. Powell, Warner Ames and ex-Senator B. T. Warner were the attorneys.

The grand jury was in session for eight days. A number of indictments were made. A number of them for illegal sale of liquor. Several persons against whom true bills were brought have left the county.

By the verdict of the jury, which rendered its decision Thursday morning, the will of the late Thomas James Warner will not be broken. The case was tried in the Circuit Court for eight days, and attracted more people to the courthouse than have been seen there for years. Stewart K. Powell, Warner Ames and ex-Senator B. T. Warner were the attorneys.

The grand jury was in session for eight days. A number of indictments were made. A number of them for illegal sale of liquor. Several persons against whom true bills were brought have left the county.

POINCARE ENTITLED TO SPECIAL UNIFORM

Will Be Spared Obligation of
Donning Evening Dress for Official Ceremonies.

By LA MARQUESE DE FONTENAY.
R. A. Poincare, the French chief magistrate of the French republic, is entitled to a uniform, namely, the dark green uniform of the members of the academy, adorned with green silk embroidery, and finished off by a black velvet collar. It is a very attractive uniform, which was devised in its origin by the First Napoleon, and by wearing it Raymond Poincare will be spared the obligation of donning evening dress for most official ceremonies and state functions that take place in the morning or afternoon.

Evening dress never looks well by daylight. To English-speaking people, when worn in the morning, it carries the suggestion of having been on the night before, and of not having been turned home. Never did it look to less advantage than when President Faure was obliged to don it on arriving at St. Petersburg after an extremely rough voyage up the Baltic, in order to be welcomed on landing by the czar, the grand duke and all the great dignitaries of the Muscovite empire at 9 A. M.

The uniform of France's First Imperial will be far more dignified and appropriate than the evening dress, which is a suggestive only of eminence. It is a distinction that is peculiarly in the line of a chief magistrate, and it is a distinction that is peculiarly in the line of a chief magistrate, and it is a distinction that is peculiarly in the line of a chief magistrate.

Of course, the Protocol—that is to say, the bureau of the Department of Foreign Affairs—which has the right of veto in matters of presidential costume, is not likely to be so lenient. But the entire Cabinet has been asked to consider the matter, and the exhumation of the remains of Charles from their coffins and the pardoning of the traitors at the end of poles through the streets.

The atrocities in question been committed in any of the big cities of the United States, there would have been but one verdict, and that would have been the verdict of the law against these sworn foes of order, religion and civilization.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

POINCARE ENTITLED TO SPECIAL UNIFORM

Will Be Spared Obligation of
Donning Evening Dress for Official Ceremonies.

By LA MARQUESE DE FONTENAY.
R. A. Poincare, the French chief magistrate of the French republic, is entitled to a uniform, namely, the dark green uniform of the members of the academy, adorned with green silk embroidery, and finished off by a black velvet collar. It is a very attractive uniform, which was devised in its origin by the First Napoleon, and by wearing it Raymond Poincare will be spared the obligation of donning evening dress for most official ceremonies and state functions that take place in the morning or afternoon.

Evening dress never looks well by daylight. To English-speaking people, when worn in the morning, it carries the suggestion of having been on the night before, and of not having been turned home. Never did it look to less advantage than when President Faure was obliged to don it on arriving at St. Petersburg after an extremely rough voyage up the Baltic, in order to be welcomed on landing by the czar, the grand duke and all the great dignitaries of the Muscovite empire at 9 A. M.

The uniform of France's First Imperial will be far more dignified and appropriate than the evening dress, which is a suggestive only of eminence. It is a distinction that is peculiarly in the line of a chief magistrate, and it is a distinction that is peculiarly in the line of a chief magistrate.

Of course, the Protocol—that is to say, the bureau of the Department of Foreign Affairs—which has the right of veto in matters of presidential costume, is not likely to be so lenient. But the entire Cabinet has been asked to consider the matter, and the exhumation of the remains of Charles from their coffins and the pardoning of the traitors at the end of poles through the streets.

The atrocities in question been committed in any of the big cities of the United States, there would have been but one verdict, and that would have been the verdict of the law against these sworn foes of order, religion and civilization.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

King Alfonso has made a more generous and more dignified decision than that of most of the monarchs of the world. He has not only spared the life of the man who had committed the crime, but he has also spared the life of the man who had committed the crime.

SILVERWARE

in Colonial and engraved patterns
Pieces range from $1.50 upward.

SCHWARZSCHILD BROS.
Richmond's Leading Jewelers,
Second and Broad Streets.

GREAT INTEREST IN WINTER COURSE

Farmers From All Over Virginia
Studying Agriculture
at V. P. I.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Blacksburg, Va., February 16.—Interest in the winter course in agriculture at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute continues unabated among the students, who represent every part of Virginia, with some from other States, and the remaining two weeks of the short course will prove even more interesting than those that have preceded it.

Thursday evening of last week Rev. G. Floyd Rogers, of Lynchburg, made a very interesting and helpful talk in V. P. I. Chapel on "Friendship With Sin." This being one of a series of "friendship addresses" arranged by Secretary Magill for the winter months. Since the burden of the work has been lifted from the association there has been an added optimism in the work.

Monday and Tuesday of this week Washington and Lee and Randolph were trained in the basketball here. Monday and Tuesday of this week Washington and Lee and Randolph were trained in the basketball here. Monday and Tuesday of this week Washington and Lee and Randolph were trained in the basketball here.

Under the patronage of the post-graduates and some of the younger members of the faculty a basketball game will be given in Gorman Club Hall Friday evening, February 21, at 8 o'clock. For this occasion a number of the faculty, basketball players, and some of the post-graduates will be given in Gorman Club Hall Friday evening, February 21, at 8 o'clock.

Professor W. K. Brainerd and C. W. Holdaway are the managers of the State Dairyman's Association in Staunton last week.

FRAZIER MARRIES AGAIN.
Man Recently Acquainted of Wife Murderer Causes Surprise.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Hartford, Conn., February 16.—Joseph M. Frazier, the Island Ford man who was acquitted in December of the charge of wife murder, after one of the most sensational trials ever held in Hartford, was again married yesterday, much to the surprise of the public. His second wife is Minnie Lee Frazier, daughter of Henry Frazier, of Frazier's Mountain, Greene County.

The father of six children, one of them an infant several days old, Frazier fled to the mountains in October, when his wife died and the charge of murder was brought against him.

After the burial several witnesses told of seeing horrible bruises and scars on the corpse of the woman, re-suturing, as they said, from kicks and beatings administered by the husband. The woman went so far as to say that the wife on her last bed had told of her husband's cruelty. Many more testified that they had seen the marks. Frazier's own children divided against him.

As a last resort Frazier had the body of his wife disinterred and examined. Coroner, physicians and undertakers came and a sign of mark or bruise and public indignation was turned.

Then like a clap of thunder from the sky the report got out that the wrong body was taken from the grave. Public feeling was aroused.

In a hard-fought trial Frazier won the day at every point and was acquitted. In the meantime the young man had died in the Episcopal Mission Home in the Blue Ridge Mountains. Frazier forsook the home neighborhood, and was lost sight of yesterday the announcement of his marriage came from Greene County.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Frazier

Wedding Flowers
Of "guaranteed freshness" direct from our greenhouses. Cost no more. Phone for prices.

HAMMOND
Virginia's Largest Florist
Telephone Mad. 630

J. B. Mosby & Co.
Special prices on English-Nainsook, Long Cloth and Lady Cloth.

20% to 40% Off on Furniture
AT Jones Bros. & Co., Inc.
1418-1420 E. Main St.

WESTPOINT VA.
PORT RICHMOND
Offer the best chance for you to double your money quickly by investing in real estate.

SILVERWARE

in Colonial and engraved patterns
Pieces range from $1.50 upward.

SCHWARZSCHILD BROS.
Richmond's Leading Jewelers,
Second and Broad Streets.

GREAT INTEREST IN WINTER COURSE

Farmers From All Over Virginia
Studying Agriculture
at V. P. I.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Blacksburg, Va., February 16.—Interest in the winter course in agriculture at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute continues unabated among the students, who represent every part of Virginia, with some from other States, and the remaining two weeks of the short course will prove even more interesting than those that have preceded it.

Thursday evening of last week Rev. G. Floyd Rogers, of Lynchburg, made a very interesting and helpful talk in V. P. I. Chapel on "Friendship With Sin." This being one of a series of "friendship addresses" arranged by Secretary Magill for the winter months. Since the burden of the work has been lifted from the association there has been an added optimism in the work.

Monday and Tuesday of this week Washington and Lee and Randolph were trained in the basketball here. Monday and Tuesday of this week Washington and Lee and Randolph were trained in the basketball here. Monday and Tuesday of this week Washington and Lee and Randolph were trained in the basketball here.

Under the patronage of the post-graduates and some of the younger members of the faculty a basketball game will be given in Gorman Club Hall Friday evening, February 21, at 8 o'clock. For this occasion a number of the faculty, basketball players, and some of the post-graduates will be given in Gorman Club Hall Friday evening, February 21, at 8 o'clock.

Professor W. K. Brainerd and C. W. Holdaway are the managers of the State Dairyman's Association in Staunton last week.

FRAZIER MARRIES AGAIN.
Man Recently Acquainted of Wife Murderer Causes Surprise.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Hartford, Conn., February 16.—Joseph M. Frazier, the Island Ford man who was acquitted in December of the charge of wife murder, after one of the most sensational trials ever held in Hartford, was again married yesterday, much to the surprise of the public. His second wife is Minnie Lee Frazier, daughter of Henry Frazier, of Frazier's Mountain, Greene County.

The father of six children, one of them an infant several days old, Frazier fled to the mountains in October, when his wife died and the charge of murder was brought against him.